

THE COMET.

Johnson City, Tenn., Sept. 2, 1886.

FOR GOVERNOR,
ROBERT L. TAYLOR.

Democrats
Of the 9th civil district will meet in Jobe's Hall next Saturday at 1 o'clock to send delegates to the Jonesboro convention on Monday next.

W. A. DICKINSON, Chm.

Unlaid

Democrats will meet in the Court House at Erwin, Monday the 6th., to select delegates to the Morristown Congressional convention, Sept. 9th.

J. A. HENSLY, Chm.

To The Democrats of Carter County.

You are earnestly requested to meet at the Court House in Elizabethton on the 1st Monday in Sept. 1886, to select delegates to the Congressional Convention to be held at Morristown on the 9th of Sept. next. A full attendance is greatly desired.

W. P. DUNGAN, Chm.

Alf, that earthquake was nothing. Just wait till November.

The Republicans in this State are for free trade—in whisky.

Alf seems to have a hankering to discuss dead issues, else why does he go into the Democratic graveyard to dig them up.

The Republican party in Tennessee has declared for free whisky and the people will declare against the Republican party.

Bob and Alf have agreed upon a list of appointments and will commence a joint canvass at Madisonville, next Thursday, and will wind up at Blountville, Nov. 1st.

Notwithstanding the Bristol News and the Mountain Leader declare that Bob Taylor is afraid to meet Alf, the Democratic Committee and Bob have asked for a joint discussion.

If the Tomahawk knows the difference between a beef-hide and an argument, we would like for it to tell us in what way a protective tariff has helped the Johnson City tannery. The denial of an immaterial fact is not an argument.

The Republican State platform denounces the penitentiary lease system. The same party, in this district, has nominated a man for Congress who voted for the lease system and who now declares that it is right. But then "platforms are only made to catch votes."

The Republicans are opposed to the penitentiary lease which pays the State over a hundred thousand dollars annually. They don't want the long term convicts to work. Perhaps they could make arrangements to board them at the Maxwell House.

The Robbed Tariff.

The platform of the Michigan Democracy has the true ring when it denounces the "robbed tariff." That is exactly what a high protective tariff is, and the U.S. Supreme Court has so held. In a case reported in 20th Wallace, page 657, Justice Miller, a Republican uses the following language:

"To lay with one hand the power of the Government on the property of the citizen, and with the other to bestow it upon favored individuals to aid private enterprises and build private fortunes, is none the less a robbery because it is done under the forms of law and is called taxation."

The Public Domain.

From 1862 to 1871 the Republican party donated to railroads and other corporations 296,000,000 acres of public land. It was given away without money and without price. This immense body of land at $2.50 an acre would be worth seven hundred and forty millions of dollars, or nearly ten times the amount proposed to be expended by the provision of the Blair Bill. The last Congress, under the lead of the Democrats, rested millions of acres of unearned lands from these corporations, and they are restored to the public domain. When Bob Taylor and other Democrats propose to sell some of these lands and apply the proceeds to educating the poor children of the country, the Republican organs set up a prolonged howl. We presume they want public lands reserved for "grinding railroad monopolies" and alien corporations.

THE GAZETTE has no direct information concerning Mr. McFarland's views and wishes as to the congressional race. We have not consulted him on the subject and cannot say whether he would accept the nomination or not. What we would say, however, is this: if he is selected as the party standard bearer and makes the race, no better leader for Democracy could be found in the district—none who would hold his opponent to a closer discussion in the canvass and a stronger fight at the polls. He has the entire confidence and respect of the people, irrespective of party affiliations. Well known throughout the district, and thoroughly familiar with Butler's craftiness and artful dodges, with the prestige of having defeated him when last before the people, we think Hamblen offers the most available man if Wm. McFarland comes before the convention.—Morristown Gazette.

It begins to look like Henry Bowen, of Tazewell would be nominated by the Republicans of the Virginia district. Mr. Fowler, of the Bristol News ought to commence preparing Bowen's letter of acceptance, but he ought to be careful this time not to sign Bowen's name Henry C. when it's only plain Henry. The other time Bowen did not see his letter until after it was published.

Butler Not to Have a Walk-over.

The Democratic Executive Committee of the first Congressional district met at Rogersville Junction on the 20th inst. and agreed to call a convention to meet at Morristown on September 9th, to nominate a candidate for Congress. Among the names mentioned in connection with the nomination we notice Messrs. Wm. McFarland of Hamblen, Geo. A. Smith of Hawkins, S. J. Kirkpatrick of Washington, and Thos. Curtin of Sullivan. The outlook in this district is not so gloomy as many Democrats suppose. Judge Butler's nomination is very obnoxious to a powerful element of the Republican party, who are ready and anxious to cut his political throat. Let the Democrats put out a bold and aggressive stump.—Bristol Reporter.

Alf and Dead Issues.

In his sombre and funeral oratory in regard to the "Democratic graveyard," the Republican candidate unwittingly drew a picture that should be a wholesome lesson to the party which has put Alf forward as its chosen leader. Alf spoke at length of the dead issues which the Democratic party had laid to rest in this graveyard, and he spent much time in reading their names from the headstones, for the benefit of his audience. But what Alf supposed to be a reproach to the Democratic party is really a virtue.

Unlike the Republican party, it keeps a graveyard, and whenever a political question becomes a dead issue it lays it forever in the tomb. The Republican party has no graveyard, and it never buries its dead. It keeps its unconfined carcasses above the earth to fester in the sun, to poison the atmosphere and breed pestilence and death in the political world. Not satisfied with the stench of its own carrion, it is continually prowling in the Democratic graveyard to dig up the crumbling bones of past issues. If it is true, as the Republican candidate declares, that secession was a Democratic issue, and that its corpse lies buried in this graveyard, why should Mr. Taylor seek to dig up its bones and rattle them before his Republican audience?

The Republican party not only refuses to bury its own dead, but it will not allow anyone else's dead to rest in peace. When the Southern Confederacy went down and secession was laid to rest in its bloody shroud, the people of the South turned their faces in another direction and have labored with resolute endeavor to build up the waste places and contribute their full share to the honor and glory of the country. It is the Republican party and Republican leaders like Alf Taylor who persist in the effort to make secession a living issue of to-day, and point to its grave in order to taunt the living and insult the memory of the dead. The Republican party would be in much better business if it would purchase a few square miles of territory in which to lay its own dead issues to rest, instead of wandering in the Democratic cemetery and giving itself bad dreams.—American.

After this another inspection was made of the material found down, and then everybody proceeded to the Cranberry Hotel to partake of one of Mrs. Hahn's finest dinners.

Dinner over the party was taken to the train for a round trip to Johnson City, Tenn., accompanied by Hon. G. B. Sennet, of New York; Hon. J. Evans Brown, M. P., of New Zealand; Hon. W. J. Whipple, of Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. Nelson, of St. Louis; Mr. Schubert, of Knoxville; Mr. L. Banner, Esq. Pritchard, Mr. Ellis, Mr. Taylor, of Elk Park, and others.

Alf Taylor's Democratic Graveyard.

What does the history of the Democratic party offer you? It is but a vast graveyard of dead issues, abandoned, perhaps, and exploded ideas. It contains the fossilized remains of the dead age of bigotry and old fogysism. The scene is sunless, moonless and starless. The only light is the ignis fatuus arising from the phosphorescence of wasted efforts. The atmosphere is pregnant with pestiferous acids and gasses. Death reigns over all, and the ghosts of dead issues stalk everywhere about. On all sides are the cataputs, monuments and mausoleums erected to Democratic folly. They make the foul resting place of unredeemed promises. Their wild cat bank system, the fugitive slave law, State sovereignty, and every form of atrocities. The Democratic epitaph is represented by a broken chain in front. Towering above all these other stones is the greatest monument of all, a huge pyramid of human skulls over the grave of prostrate secession. There is room in this historical graveyard for many other monuments. The greatest is yet to be built, in sombre magnificence, to receive the carcass of the Democratic party itself. Upon it shall be written: "Here lies the Democratic party, which died for lack of more follies to commit."

A PLEASANT PARTY.

COL. C. H. NIMSON ENTERTAINS A BAKERSVILLE PARTY AT THE CRANBERRY HOTEL.

A RIDE OVER THE NARROW GAUGE TO JOHNSON CITY AND RETURN—SPEECHES, &c. &c.

On Thursday, Aug. 25, a party of gentlemen from Bakersville, county seat of Mitchell county, N. C., among them, W. C. Hyams, J. K. Pritchard, R. H. Freeland, W. S. Phillips, J. W. Bowman, Chas. Stewart, D. A. Bowman, C. F. Baker, M. E. Greer, M. Keener, J. Keener, Jake Bowman, Jr., S. D. Presswood, L. A. Parker, C. R. Garland, A. Dillingham, made a visit to Cranberry, N. C., as the guests of Col. C. H. Nimson.

They arrived at the Cranberry Hotel in time for supper, after which, being pretty well tired by their 35 mile drive, they soon retired, and after a good night's rest, and a hearty breakfast they started out with Col. Nimson as a guide, for the works and mines.

They first passed about the coal kilns, furnace, store, &c., next they were well supplied with lanterns, and in single file marched into the tunnel, and clear through all the working chambers of the mine, underground coming out at the mouth of the upper tunnel, nicely cooled off by the air in the mine, and refreshed by the excellent water found in a spring in the mine.

They next passed up the hill into the open works of the mine, where the entire mine operations and the iron ore were discussed at some length. After which the march was continued to the top of the mountain, at a point where all the workings could be taken in at a glance.

At this point Col. Nimson explained the workings of the mine and the extent of the deposit, its future prospects and the effects it must have in furthering the interests of all classes of Mitchell county, adding some amusing anecdotes.

It was now half-past ten and all hands ready for a rest.

Col. Nimson had previously arranged to have a series of blasts in the face of the mine ready to set off, and had also invited the numerous ladies and gentlemen, guests at the Cranberry Hotel, to be on the ground to see the manner in which the ore was blasted out of its layer. All hands were then placed in the best possible position, with the ladies under a cover to secure them against any stray rocks, flying through the air. After all was ready and the word given, Mr. Phillips, Supt. of the mine, lighted the fuse of some twelve or fourteen charges, and very soon the booming commenced and hundreds of tons of rock began to roll out of their long kept beds, to the great delight of all spectators.

After this another inspection was made of the material found down, and then everybody proceeded to the Cranberry Hotel to partake of one of Mrs. Hahn's finest dinners.

Dinner over the party was taken to the train for a round trip to Johnson City, Tenn., accompanied by Hon. G. B. Sennet, of New York; Hon. J. Evans Brown, M. P., of New Zealand; Hon. W. J. Whipple, of Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. Nelson, of St. Louis; Mr. Schubert, of Knoxville; Mr. L. Banner, Esq. Pritchard, Mr. Ellis, Mr. Taylor, of Elk Park, and others.

The run from here to Johnson City was made on the regular passenger train, leaving here at 1 p.m., on the E. T. & W. N. C. R. R., arriving at Johnson City promptly on time. For half an hour after our arrival Johnson City was done up lively, with some inquiry for the little brown jug, but the Johnson City fellows kept it hid, fearing it was too near Sunday to risk the loss to stock, but all hands were much refreshed by the excellent cool beer served at the different bars in the very best style.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the whistle sounded the time for leaving, when all hands reported ready to start for Cranberry. "All aboard," and a blow off brakes started the train with all in most excellent spirits. The train sped on through the beautiful valley of the Watauga and Doe river, until reaching the gorge, where the party was placed on open cars, from which they had the best possible view of this grand scenery. It was a fine sight! Between the clear sky and cool air nature seemed to make its best efforts to please the eye along the entire line, until they reached Cranberry Hotel.

Here a supper was in waiting and to which it is a question who did the most justice, Mrs. Hahn in getting it up, or the party in showing their relish for it.

After supper and a smoke, the party organized by appointing a chairman and secretary; resolutions of thanks to the Cranberry Iron and Coal Co. and Col. Nimson were offered. The days doings discussed at length in very instructive and amusing speeches, the final passage of the resolution and presentation. Col. Nimson accepted them in a proper manner and was followed in his speech by Hon. G. B. Sennet, Hon. J. E. Brown, Hon. W. J. Whipple, all making very interesting and instructive speeches, after which the meeting adjourned and the balance of the evening was spent in telling anecdotes, interspersed with music and song.

This was one of the many pleasant entertainments which present opportunities afford to the people of this country by the introduction of railroad and public works, for the development of their country, and should be more frequently indulged in. Such gatherings give great pleasure and tend to concentrate and direct more intelligently the efforts of the people to develop their country, educate themselves to see their best interests and stimulate them to make their best efforts for their own individual welfare.

DEMOCRATIC BOB.

A RINGING LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE FROM THE NOMINEE.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 28.—Hon. R. L. Taylor to-day sent the following letter of acceptance to Chairman McConnell:

"KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 28, 1886.—Hon. T. M. McConnell, Chairman, and Gentlemen of the Committee: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 14th inst., informing me of my nomination to the office of Governor of Tennessee by the Democratic Convention recently held at Nashville. I accept the trust, and with it all the responsibilities that attach and only hope to manifest my appreciation of the distinguished honor thus conferred by loyalty, zeal, fidelity and devoted effort for the triumph of the principles of Democracy and the promotion of the welfare of all the people of this great State, and I further accept the platform made by that Convention as embodying sound principles of good government as tending to establishment, peace, tranquility, happiness and prosperity in the country.

In reference to national questions, I favor not only a revival of respect for, but an enforced obedience to, the Constitution of the United States, which in many instances has been grievously violated and trampled under foot by the party recently expelled from power. I favor a return to the strictest possible economy in the expenditure of public moneys, and strenuously oppose any and all appropriations of the same for purposes not contemplated or warranted by the Constitution.

I favor the application of the surplus fund now in the national treasury to the reduction of the national debt. I favor most positively and earnestly a system of universal free education, and believe that such a system can be best established and carried out through the sale of our immense public domain.

In regard to the internal revenue of the State, I oppose a system which brings convict labor into competition with the honest labor of our people. The party having declared in favor of the submission to the people for their adoption or rejection, a proposed amendment to the Constitution, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in Tennessee, it should be carried out in good faith.

I favor all proper legislation and legitimate modes looking to the encouragement of our industries, and the development of our natural resources. Congratulating the party on the settlement of the many vexed questions which have hitherto disturbed its harmony, and upon the consequent reunion of all its disagreeing elements, I have the honor to be your obedient servant,
